Floods Hurt Montana's Tourist Crop

HELENA, June 9 (AP)—Montana's tragic floods appeared certain to have a disastrous effect on what had promised to be possibly the biggest tourist year in the state's history.

This is Montana's Centennial year—the 100th anniversary of its designation as a territory—and community and statewide festivals, pageants and other birthday celebrations have been planned for the entire summer.

Now many communities and their residents will find it more important to mop up and rebuild than to stage tourist-attracting programs.

Many of the state's leading highways will take months to repair, especially the bridges which crumbled by the dozens under the force of the ravaging waters.

One of Montana's leading tourist attractions, Glacier national park, could be isolated most of the summer as it is now, and the full extent of damage to the roads and facilities within the park still has not been determined.

Roads and especially bridges at all park entrances have been washed out late last night when the main bridge at West Glacier was battered away from one of its moorings and left dangling and half submerged.

Normally, the water level of the middle fork of the Flathead river, the water rose up to its underpinnings and trees and debris carried by the force smashed the structure.

Earlier in the day, practically every road and bridge along the east side of the park crumbled under the rampaging waters.

Water streamed through the lobby of beautiful Lake McDonald lodge, and rustic bridges across McDonald creek to a summer home area north of the lake washed out.

Curtains Go up After Broadway Strike Settled

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Curtains went up on Broadway last night after marathon negotiations ended an actor's strike which could have closed it down.

The agreement between Actors Equity and the League of New York Theaters was reached earlier yesterday in negotiations including Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The four-year pact provides the actors with a $12.50 pay increase over the period of the contract. The current minimum weekly wage for the actors is $11.75.

SPREADS TO HARM—ABERDEEN, Scotland, June 9 (AP)—The Aberdeen typhoid scare spread to a nearby Royal Air Force base today when it was confirmed that three airmen have the disease.

HIGH BOOTS were appropriate footwear in Augusta, Mont., Monday as the town's main street flooded with heavy, rain-fed mountain stream water. The town was one of numerous northwestern Montana communities caught in flood. (AP wirephoto)

Radcliff Girls Told to Value Intelligence

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 9 (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson advised the girls of Radcliffe today not to fear "your intelligence is a threat to your femininity."

"The man you marry," she told the graduating class, "will want you to be what you are—not only his wife and the mother of his children, but a person in your own right, with drives and desires, talents and skills of your own."

Nothing that the girls of Radcliffe, an affiliate of Harvard, pride themselves on casual dress, she said "nevertheless, I do not see among you any of those ungainly Thurber females"—pictured by the late author-cartoonist James Thurber—"with stones polished to crush the nearest male skull—and I trust your male acquaintances include none of those equally ungainly Thurber men, hating, 'Where did you get those great brown eyes and that tiny mind?'"

Ultimately, she said in her remarks prepared for the Radcliffe baccalaureate exercises at Memorial church on the Harvard campus, the lesson "come back to the spirit in which you can direct your own life—how happily can you marry both man and job; or how happily you can marry one of them."

She urged them to take part

Pope Paul Hits Communists

VATICAN CITY, June 9 (AP)—Pope Paul VI, in one of the bluntest speeches of his year-old reign, has told Italian industrialists the materialistic concepts of early capitalism must be overcome in the interest of a "more peaceful, more brotherly society."

Vatican sources said the Pope in the business of "unfinished America"—from teaching the young to helping the elderly.

was speaking against efforts to mislead religion to discourage legitimate labor protests.

In his speech to the Congress of Christian Industrialists and Business Managers yesterday, Pope Paul blamed communists and those who prize wealth above all else for many of society's ills.

Rare Attraction

Visitors from other parts of the nation have flocked for years to Snake river canyon north of Twin Falls and some of the outstanding attractions in it, such as Shoshone falls. A few long-time residents have fully realized the unusual nature of Snake river canyon and the fact it has unlimited potential for development as a tourist attraction. One possible project mentioned by those who are aware of the canyon attraction is a scenic drive on the north side of the canyon from Hangerman bridge to Ingerman valley.

The suggestion was mentioned on the other day by Idaho Land Commissioner O. J. Buxton. He announced the state is seeking title to 1,350 acres of public land scattered along the north rim of the canyon from Blue lakes upstream to Pillar falls. The land has been withdrawn from public use but now has been returned to the public domain. The state of Idaho wants the land for possible development as a resort area.

Commissioner Buxton's announcement confirms a rumor that has been heard from time to time in the last couple of years. "We've had a lot of inquiries regarding the possible use of this land for such things as motel and hotel development," Mr. Buxton said. This fits right in with rumors that some interests from outside Idaho have been considering subdividing and developing land on the north rim of the canyon.

It's quite easy to take nearly anything for granted when you're exposed to it day after day. For many years residents of Magic Valley have regarded Snake river canyon more as a nuisance and an inconvenience to travel. The canyon may develop into one of the big, great tourist-attractions, particularly if promoters who recognize its value get involved in motel or resort developments.

Certainly it would be folly to go on regarding Snake river canyon as just another hole in the ground.

VALLEYS OF IDAHO

Some three decades ago, executives of the Times-News coined "Magic Valley" to describe the Twin Falls trade area. Now, this region of southcentral Idaho is known far and wide as Magic Valley. Moreover, several firms have included the catchy title in the names of businesses. The name serves to give it unity and recognition to an unusual district.

Several years ago, Boise area boosters recognized that Magic Valley had acquired a rather unusual stature, partly because of its distinctive name. So Boise residents settled on the name of "Treasure Valley" to describe that region. The name is becoming more widely known all the time and apparently is well on the way to taking hold.

Now comes Idaho Falls with the proposal to name all of eastern Idaho "Golden Valley." The plan originates with the Idaho Falls Chamber of Commerce, which hopes to enlist Pocatello help.

It has been said that emulation is the most sincere form of flattery, so local residents can be sure folks around Idaho Falls and Boise are well aware of the success of the name of Magic Valley. The casual visitor might be puzzled to find so many valleys contained in the greater Snake river valley. He might even wonder about the "gold" in the Idaho Falls area and ponder over the "treasure" around Boise. But when he drives through this region and sees the lush farms and the fine communities they have sparked, he'll know instantly why Magic Valley is Magic.

Those newcomers to this valley business, Boise and Idaho Falls, are hereby welcomed.

FINE SELECTION

It shouldn't come as any surprise to Idahoans that Yanner Budge has been tapped for membership on the securities and exchange commission. During his 10 years as U.S. representative from Idaho's second congressional district, Mr. Budge built an enviable reputation. As is so often the case with persons of Mr. Budge's caliber, his ability and integrity probably are appreciated more in other regions.

No one can doubt that Mr. Budge will do an excellent job as a member of the securities and exchange commission. He was a top-notch representative for Idaho, whose stature was recognized by appointment to the powerful house rules committee on which no other Idahoan has ever served.

Although Idaho will be losing the services of a fine judge, the U.S. will be gaining when Mr. Budge takes over his new assignment. And as Mr. Budge comments, even though he'll be leaving Idaho, this state will always be his home.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(Editor's note: Andrew Tully is on a brief news-gathering trip to Europe. Several high government officials are expected to return for him until he begins filing from abroad.)

By JOHN EDGAR HOOVER
(Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation)

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In a recent issue of "Political Affairs," the theoretical journal of the Communist Party, U. S. A., Gill Green, a leading party official, writes:

"It would be a shame if at just this time even a small number of socialist-minded people began to curl inward and themselves. This is no time to go to the hills. It is a time to go to the people."

Such a good summary of the party's present program—to take its propaganda message directly to the American people. At no time since its founding in 1919 has the Communist Party, U. S. A., ever needed so systematically, thoroughly and deceptively to reach you, the citizen.

INTERVIEWS, ANYONE?—Party leaders are today appearing as speakers and lecturers on college campuses (and attracting large crowds) and on radio and television programs. They are eager to grant interviews to the press. No wonder—Gus Hall, the No. 1 communist, is today so highly enthusiastic. In all his years in the party never have the words of a party spokesman received wider dissemination.

"There is a definite theme in the party's propaganda message—a theme every American should be able to recognize. In Gus Hall's words it goes like this:

"Marxism-Leninism is a science that recognizes no contradiction between the struggle in defense of democratic institutions and democratic rights, and the struggle for socialism."

DECEPTIVE LINE—"Look, there is nothing wrong with communism," the party is saying. "It is a science which infallibly explains the processes of history. We communists are working to protect the working rights and institutions of this country. Therefore, trust us. Don't be afraid. Accept us as loyal and patriotic Americans. We want to cooperate with you for the best interests of this country."

False in every respect: Communism definitely is a hot scientific, nor can it adequately explain the working of history. It is hostile, both in theory and practice, to democracy. The communists are not loyal Americans, but owe allegiance to a foreign power, the Soviet Union. They are not sincerely interested in reform. They work unthinkingly to overthrow our institutions of free government.

Yet, behind this propaganda mask, they seek to convince you that they are a legitimate political party within the democratic tradition of this country. They work, night and day, to achieve a respectability, to be accepted as legitimate partners in our society.

PLANS NEW YOUTH GROUP—Under this camouflage, the party poses as the champion of the minority, the protector of the oppressed, the spokesman for democratic rights. It is currently thinking of establishing a youth group in this year's election. It is seeking to exploit for its own partisan advantage the civil rights movement. It is planning soon to establish a new Marxist-oriented youth organization designed to appeal to high school and college students.

Americans should be vigilant of the party's current efforts to "go to the people." They should be alert to the fallacies of the communist claim. Nothing can defeat this communist propaganda offensive more quickly than the truth.

Views of Others

RED QUID PRO QUO
Anastas Mikoyan, the Soviet Union's foremost trader, has suggested to a visiting Canadian delegation that Russia may put its purchases of Canadian wheat on a barter basis—wheat for furs. This is a price of around 40 million dollars. This would be in addition to a present order of 500 million worth of Canadian wheat and flour.

This has stirred a lot of interest in British Columbia, with its Vancouver port, and in the United States, with its American prairie states. But as usual in such matters, there is a question of quid pro quo.

Presumably at Mikoyan's suggestion, B. C. Hydro Co-Chairman Gordon Shrum has invited the Russians, the Vancouver province reports, to bid on generators and transmission lines for the Peace River power project. Canadian industrialists are not happy about the B. C. government opening the gate to communist competition for the province's hydro projects which, after the Peace, will include the way it goes. The Russians have become experts in hydro generation and transmission, but can't raise enough money. A two-way trade seems far enough. If Canada wants Soviet business, Canadians seem to be more open-minded on the subject than American many of whom think even one-way trade with the Russians is a security risk.—The Oregonian.

THE BIG DIMENSION
The special mathematics and foreign language courses offered in the Idaho Falls school district are refreshing departures from the usual book-bound routine.

The "discovery" method of teaching mathematics in the grades, introduced as an experiment this year, has enjoyed an unusual response. First graders are being taught, essentially, to discover mathematics principles through the use of special exercises and "manipulative materials." The second graders are being taught to use or suggest or invent a recognition of principle.

The foreign language introduction in junior high school has been equally successful.

The mathematics approach attracts response because it is fun. The children and the added immeasurable satisfaction of allowing pupils to discover something for themselves. This builds a joy and interest in initiative, and at the same time, melts away the formality of standard textbook mathematics.

If you can teach a child the elixir of discovery knowledge, of any kind, in the early grades, then that open sesame to all knowledge, motivation, will work its magic on the rest of the student's life.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

POLICY OR PIQUE IN CUBA
A British view of American policy toward Cuba, reprinted on this page, is that the policy is based not on logic or even a definite objective, but on "exaggerated pique." Whatever role pique may play in the trade embargo, we very much hope it is not all involved in the new refugee attacks on Cuba.

These raids are the real thing—a genuine manifestation of substantial revolutionary sentiment in Cuba, carried on by Cubans with their own resources. It is not the kind of invasion American-financed pin-pricks, expressing "exaggerated pique," that is another.

The public does not know the extent of United States involvement, if any. Cuba naturally charges that the raids are the kind of invasion that is the work of the central intelligence agency. Washington denies it, and we hope this time Washington is telling the truth.

Since the United States has tried to export revolution, particularly in the form of arms and trained agents, to Venezuela and other countries, it deserves no sympathy when attacked by revolutionary forces.

The United States, however, ought to keep their completely after the fact. The United States can hardly expect the world to consider it blameless when the raiding refugee groups, and their war communiques from Miami, Fla., and Louis Port-Dauphine.

POT SHOTS

Dear Sir:

It's June and the magic of this month fills me with an urge to erupt in poetry.

Somewhere deep inside me, I just know the best poem in the world is just waiting to be freed. And it's so easy; just a matter of lining up a bunch of words like June and moon and spoon and loon and so on.

But if I put this perfect poem down on paper, I know full well I'd have to shoot it along to Pot Shots. And you know what Pot Shots will do? Well, I know. He'll just toss it in his capacious wastebasket and print some newsworthy little note on "Our Bulletin Board" to the general effect that I should leave poetry to the poets.

But, Pot Shots sir, you can't keep the poetry out of my soul. So there!

The birds are looking us over this spring.

There is a flash of magpies on the wing, a flash of blue jays, a flash of blackbirds wade in the water to their knees. And pick at something that seems to please.

The orioles come back, as I thought they would. To their summer home in the old cottonwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow are settled in. She on the nest, he out on a limb.

What the killdeer's about, she seems not to know.

Dear Pot Shots:

"I've complained before and I think I'll go right on complaining until I can find someone who will listen. It's this matter of people setting their lawn sprinklers so they get the sidewalk, too.

There's hardly a block a person can walk without having to detour—sometimes clear out into the street—to avoid getting soaked. Why can't home owners be just a little more considerate?

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The commission to select the hardest-working man in Washington is torn between two candidates.

One is President Johnson, the other is Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara. If this observer had a vote on this mythical commission he would cast it for McNamara.

The President is as ceaseless as the tides. He is here in the White House and everywhere. But McNamara is not. McNamara is a man of few words and few visits. McNamara is a man of few words and few visits. McNamara is a man of few words and few visits.

The way McNamara, rounding out his fourth year in office, continues to carry the crushing load of the defense establishment is still a marvel to those who work with him. On top of everything else he has come to have almost complete responsibility for the defense budget. The sharpest critic in the capital, Wayne Morse of Oregon, avoids blaming the President for what is happening in Southeast Asia and speaks instead of "McNamara's war."

No one knows so well how touch-and-go how thin the line between disaster and at least surface stability is. The situation in Vietnam is a delicate balance. The goal is to maintain the regime of General Nguyen Khanh. If Khanh should go in a third coup a people weary of war might well see United States forces as invaders.

Although fighting a guerrilla war is like fighting smoke, when McNamara returns from Vietnam he is interrogated by the press. McNamara is a man of few words and few visits. McNamara is a man of few words and few visits.

He has made five trips to Vietnam. McNamara works 12 to 14 hours a day, six days a week and he is in his office appointed neatly dovetail one after another, broken only by a few moments of sleep. McNamara is a man of few words and few visits.

The Doctor Says

By WAGNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Is Emphysema contagious or is it an allergy? Is there any cure?

A—Emphysema is a very common and a very serious lung disease. It is caused by a virus which is trapped in the lungs due to a viral infection. This obstruction occurs chiefly in heavy smokers, persons with chronic bronchitis and those who live in areas of extreme air pollution. It is not contagious and not an allergy. Its effect are sometimes similar to those of asthma.

Although there is no cure, the best treatment is early diagnosis. This will enable your doctor to prevent serious lung damage. If you have emphysema, you should report to your doctor whenever you get a cold or other acute disease of the nose or lungs. It is helpful to quit smoking and to keep fit through moderate, regular exercise. If your work requires you to breathe dusty or sooty air, you can protect your lungs by wearing a respirator or changing your occupation.

Your doctor can help you by giving you antibiotics for some types of complicating infection.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL HOYLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 9 (AP)—The greatest tribute a child can pay to its parents for the gift of life is to live to outlive them.

I have existed beyond my father a quarter of a century, but I doubt I can outlive my mother. She gets stronger with the years.

On June 7, she is fair-complexioned as a milkmaid, still delicate of ankle, but so robust and robust that it is a her loving children can do to put their arms around her.

She came here from Ireland when the world was young and five kids with her—lost all over 40 and 45—survived the hardships of an Irish temper, a touch of diabetes, and four decades of high blood pressure in good health. Her current foe is rheumatism, and she has a low opinion of it.

"Glad days I can hardly move," she remarks, "but where do I want to go anyway except to stay here?"

One of the things I admire most about my mother, who went only to the third grade in Ireland but educated herself by reading the Bible and the Catholic Catechism, is her humility. She is the most self-effacing family politician I ever knew.

She doesn't just sit on the fence, she takes both sides of a situation. Any situation.

Judges Rally In Criticism Of Child Law

BLACKFOOT, June 9 (AP)— Idaho probate judges gave tacit approval to the sentiments of Attorney General William E. Williams today when he said that the new child neglect law made it more difficult for the probate courts to deal with the problems of neglected and abandoned children.

Williams addressed the morning session of the 24th annual convention of probate judges here yesterday.

The two laws were passed by the 1963 state legislature and went into effect in September, 1963.

The laws were designed to protect the child against abuse, neglect or abandonment by the parent.

Williams said that the Idaho children's commission, which is studying juvenile laws in the state, was the basis for the new legislation, had done something to help the child.

His impressions of the commission's report, he said, indicated the philosophy that a trained social worker under the direction of the department of public assistance can solve all the problems of juveniles and families.

Williams said he disagreed with the social worker approach to probate court functions.

The philosophy, he said, shows a lack of confidence in the probate courts and would make them a tool through which the department of public assistance might act.

"In operation," Williams declared, "regardless of how noble the objective, when we create an agency and bestow upon it the power to be the investigator, the complaining witness, the jury, the judge, the probationer and the custodian, we have created a monster without conscience and over which there are no controls."

He said it was no benefit to the child to have to wait 30 days or more for the DPA to investigate the complaint for the court before it would be brought up for a hearing.

Boise Convict Draws Second Life Sentence

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—A convict who pleaded guilty to the knife slaying of a fellow inmate of the Idaho state penitentiary has drawn another life term in third district court.

The sentence was imposed on Monday (see page 1) David Black, 38, who was accused of killing Ernesto Blanco, 36, in the prison yard with a makeshift knife last September.

It was Black's second life term. He already was serving life for the switchblade knife slaying of a rooming house operator in Burley.

Drivers Switch To Other Side

ODDLY, ADANA, Ethiopia, June 8 (AP)—Police reported today that drivers had switched from left to right-hand driving yesterday with only a handful of minor accidents.

Their credited application of a 30-mile-per-hour speed limit, which will remain in effect for the first week of the switch-over. The change was ordered because most imported cars are equipped for right side driving.

Jet Bombers Stand by in Philippines

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)— The United States has a fleet of about 40 B-57H light jet bombers and their crews training in the Philippines apparently in case they may be needed in Viet Nam, it was disclosed last night.

Presumably the planes would be flown into action only if a decision were made to extend the war to targets in communist North Viet Nam.

So far, the United States has taken the position that communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam will have to be defeated within that country with American aid. Any extension to the north would be a supplementary to main action in the south, it has been contended.

But the fleets have been kept guessing whether the extension might come.

Nuclear Vessel Starts Goodwill Trip to Europe

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—The $3 million dollar US Savannah, the world's first nuclear powered merchant vessel and namesake of a pioneer steamboat, sailed yesterday for Europe on its maiden goodwill voyage.

Carrying 13 paying passengers, 24 seaman trainees and 250 tons of cargo, the 22,000-ton ship and its 110-man crew sailed out of New York harbor in a steady drizzle.

The government-owned atom-to vessel will visit three nations and is expected to make its first port of call in Bremerhaven, Germany, in about 10 days.

Sheep Being Taken North For Summer

HAILEY, June 9—John Coombs, Sawtooth forest ranger, reported Monday morning on movement of sheep to summer range.

Arthur Martin, Shoshone, moved his sheep onto Deer Creek forest range Saturday. Bill Jones, Hagerman, took his bands into the Quigley range over the week-end and will enter forest lands in the Cove creek area up Moran gulch Wednesday.

The Bacon sheep company took its sheep up Greenhorn gulch on the Wood river drainage Saturday.

Coombs said the sheep are entering the forest lands a few days earlier than had been originally scheduled. Soft rains over the past two weeks have given an abundance of grass.

Second Swan Dies; Fund Is Begun for Capture of Killer

IDaho FALLS, June 9 (AP)—A second trumpeter swan was found dead on the banks of Swan lake yesterday and angered east Idahoans began donating money for a reward fund for capture of the culprit who killed the bird's mate.

The rare bird was seen stretched out across the banks of the lake by Mrs. Denton Lick, Idaho Falls. Forest service officials said the body had disappeared and that they didn't know the cause of death.

The mother swan was found dead last week, shot through the heart by a "22 caliber" rifle. The left six eggs, which were rushed to an incubator in nearby Sugar City, but officials say chances of the baby swans (cygnets) hatching are dim.

The birds were the only two still on the lake, once a haven for the rare species. There are only about 700 trumpeter swans still left in the United States.

Meanwhile, a reward fund for the capture of the person who shot the first swan began to mount.

A. W. Brunt, an Idaho Falls realtor, started things off, and several others donated. The fund so far is at $120.

Many residents were angered by the swans' death.

In Pocatello, two federal investigators asked anyone who may have witnessed any suspicious acts around the scene of the shooting to contact them. They are Bill Rush and Jim Johnson of the U. S. game management agency. Anyone with information is asked to call Rush at the Pocatello office of the U. S. fish and wildlife service.

Second Swan Dies; Fund Is Begun for Capture of Killer

Rush said 14 spent .22 caliber rifle cartridges were found in a small radius on highway 101 near the swan nesting area. He theorized someone could have done the shooting from an automobile parked on highway 101.

Rush said the female bird will be mounted and sent to the national wildlife museum in Washington, D.C., when the investigation is completed.

Calvin Havesport, owner of the hatchery, which is watching over the eggs, says he thinks the young swans are dead.

"When the eggs were brought in, there was a movement in them," he said, "but now they appear to be dead. There is no movement in them at all."

He said the eggs will be kept for three or four days, then opened to see if the tiny birds have survived. He said the eggs were apparently in the third week of a four-week cycle.

Officials feared for the life of the drake swan as soon as its mate was found dead. The birds are monogamous — they only take one mate in their lifetime.

Officials thought the drake would fly away, possibly to die of a broken heart.

The trumpeter swan weighs about 50 pounds and is the third largest bird in the United States. About half of the 700 left in the country reside along the Idaho-Montana border.

The birds, officials say, have been losing the battle of survival for many years. It is thought that their practice of taking only one mate during a lifetime is the principal reason for their dwindling numbers.

This was the weed that was!

Black Bear Hunted in Gem State

OROVILLE, June 9 (AP)—The state game department is hunting a black bear that mauled an Oroville teen-ager Sunday morning while she and her family slept at a campground.

The department said yesterday it will keep a man stationed at the Beaver lake campsite, near the Okanogan county line, for a few days.

The girl, Ruthie Burnett, 13, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burnett. The animal grabbed Ruthie, then shook her out of a bedroll and swiped at her again before her father drove it off with a .22 rifle.

Ruthie suffered a long gash on her shoulder and a punctured hand. Hitches were required.

16 Delegates Of Florida Pledge Vote

WINTER PARK, Fla., June 9 (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's personal emissary yesterday won commitments from half of Florida's 32 pledged delegates to the Republican National convention in San Francisco.

Former Sen. William Knowland of California, who managed Goldwater's victory in the California presidential primary last week, made a personal plea to delegates at a luncheon. He hoped to capture consent of their votes on the first convention ballot.

A survey after the closed meeting showed unofficially that 16 would vote for the Arizona candidate for president while 16 said they intend to go to San Francisco as uncommitted delegates.

Two of the uncommitted delegates, however, said they "lean toward Goldwater."

Teacher for Deaf School Is Graduated

GOODING, June 9—Stanford Rupert, Gooding, was graduated from the John Tracy clinic, Los Angeles, a teachers' school for the deaf.

The clinic's teacher training program, which is offered in conjunction with the University of Southern California—school of education, leads to a California state accreditation to teach the deaf, as well as the certificate of the Conference of Executives of American Schools for the Deaf.

Prior to entering the clinic, Rupert taught for seven years at the Idaho State School for the Deaf at Gooding. He completed his undergraduate work at the University of Idaho, where he received his bachelor's degree in education. He received his master's degree in education at California college, Washington, D.C.

Rupert will resume his teaching at the state school in Gooding this fall where he will be supervising teacher in the pre-school program. He will be responsible for children six years of age and under.

Pie Crust Is Made at Meet

CASTLEFORD, June 9—Demonstration was given by Cindy Heringer on making pie crust at the Gem Dandy 4-H club Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Chester Heringer. Plans are being made to make 4-H costumes for the fair.

Mary McCallin and Judy Hill attended the 4-H council held in Duhal. A picnic for members and their families will be held June 14 at Banbury.

Club Meets

CASTLEFORD, June 9—Demonstration on photography was given by Dona Heringer at the Pen Pal 4-H club meeting at the Gem Dandy 4-H club Friday.

Dorlene Poulak gave a demonstration on fitting and showing a beef. Joy Owen demonstrated equipment for rock hunting. Dona Owen will be assistant club leader during the summer vacation.

DIETRICH, June 9—Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Hogue's son, Robert Hogue, was named "plane captain of the month" at the U.S. naval air station, Corpus Christi, Tex.

News Around Idaho

BALAMON, June 9 (AP)—Fourteen inches of new snow was reported atop Baldy mountain near Salmon today as a storm front dumped heavy precipitation on Idaho and other areas of the Intermountain region. The snow fell as far down the side as the 6,000-foot level of the 9,000-foot mountain. Precipitation was rain below elevation of 6,000 feet.

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—The state headquarters of the Goldwater for president committee announces plans for a Goldwater headquarters for the Republican convention Friday and Saturday in Idaho Falls. It will be on the fourth floor of the Bonanza hotel. Members of the national Goldwater committee will be there, Richard Kleindienst, director of field operations, and Stephen Shadegg, western states regional director.

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Gen. J. E. Thelmer, deputy commanding general of the sixth army, is scheduled to arrive in Boise today on a two-day inspection of national guard summer maneuvers at Gowen field.

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Appointment of Vard W. Meadows, American Falls, to a five-year term on the Idaho wheat commission is announced by Gov. Robert E. Smylie. Meadows, former state senator from Power county, will succeed A. C. Condie, Preston, who is retiring from the commission effective July 1.

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Preparation of a budget for the 1965-67 biennium and consideration of special reports will top the agenda Thursday at a meeting in Moscow of the board of trustees of the University of Idaho. Dr. F. W. Willmuth, director, said it is expected an actuary's report will include recommendations for an increase in individual contributions to the system.

SUN VALLEY, June 9 (AP)—Delegates to the annual meeting of the Idaho Bankers association were told yesterday that their biggest problem is keeping up with the youth of America "who will be tomorrow's big customers." "Young people in the United States spend over 9 billion dollars a year," said Mrs. M. Hayes, director of management counseling services for the National Cash Register company, "and banks must find out who makes these young customers tick in order to meet their needs."

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Gov. William E. Dreyer reports his wife entered a Boise hospital today for what he described as a correlative abdominal surgery. Dreyer, who is acting governor in the absence of Gov. Robert E. Smylie, said the surgery is scheduled for Wednesday.

MOUNTAIN HOME, June 9 (AP)—Former Airman Gerald M. Anderson yesterday demanded a jury trial in his $250,000 invasion of privacy suit filed against Air Force Secretary Eugene Tuckman. The lawsuit, filed in federal court in Mountain Home, in his suit, Anderson asserted that actions by the air force authorities during the time he was held on a charge of murder violated his constitutional rights.

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard, in a brief filed with the state supreme court, defends the use of the "suburban" classification in assessing real property in residential areas adjacent to Idaho cities. The brief contends that the state tax commission had authority to adopt that classification in an effort to encourage fair assessments. A group of residents of Lewiston, Ore., in a Lewiston suburb outside the city, filed suit in 1960 challenging the assessment on their property. They maintain that only the legislature has power to classify property for tax purposes. District court upheld the tax commission and they appealed.

BOISE, June 9 (AP)—A move to trim the size of Ada county's delegation at the Republican convention Friday and Saturday in Idaho Falls is suggested as a possible consequence action by the Credentials committee. Its effect would be to trim from the delegation some of the votes expected to go for Roland Wilford, Lewiston, in the contest with incumbent Harley Markham, Pocatello, for national committee member. The Credentials committee rejected the order of alternate delegates, a move might be made to challenge all 14 of the elected regular delegates.

Two Performances of "East Lynn" Slated at Sun Valley

KEVONUM, June 9—Dress rehearsals are being held for the production of "East Lynn" at the Holiday Inn in Sun Valley Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The melodrama is being produced entirely with local talent. Short three-day rehearsals from its production will be used to help defray expenses of the theater workshop to be held here this summer.

Mrs. Winifred Holsler, Seattle, organizer, advises that rehearsals for the second melodrama, "Night of the Fall," will start immediately after "East Lynn" is presented. Rehearsals of the theater plays will start July 15.

Weekly performances will be held at Sun Valley during the summer months, Mrs. Holsler said.

Mrs. Nancy Nelson is in charge of ticket sales and donations from patrons.

Calf Feeding Is Shown Members

RIOFIELD, June 9—Calf feeding and types of vitamins were today 4-H club members at the club meeting held Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan.

Outlaw day float committee members are Terry Swainston, Diana Timney, Lorraine Wolverton, Karen McRoberts, Becky Hansen and Michael Swainston.

The 4-H camp registration slips were distributed by leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riley, Jr. The June 10 club meeting will be held at the Harold Pridmore ranch.

Denn Chaffield talked on fitting and showing animals when the West End 4-H club met at the Leroy Magoffin home. The club will meet again Friday to work on the Outlaw parade float at the home of Linda and Dorothy Atkins.

Study Gives 528 Delegates To Goldwater

By United Press International
Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign manager predicted Monday that the Arizona conservative "would win the Republican presidential nomination on either the first or second ballots at San Francisco next month—very possibly the first."

Denison Kitchell, a long-time friend and adviser to the senator, said the fact that some states will be committed to vote for a favorite son may prevent a first-ballot victory.

But, he added, "on the second ballot, in which the favorite son situation is gone, and there we could be able to take it for sure. If all goes according to the plan."

Kitchell said that an immediate victory is possible if some of the favorite son votes are pledged to Goldwater on the first ballot.

A United Press International survey shows that the Arizona senator already has 528 delegates committed to vote for him on the first ballot when the GOP convention opens in San Francisco on July 13. Actions by other states in the coming days could give him the necessary 656 votes needed for nomination.

Woman to Take Summer Course

SHOSHONE, June 9—Mrs. L. M. Hattacker left Sunday for Pocatello to enroll at BSU for an eight-week summer school course.

Mrs. Velma Allen and daughter, Colleen, and father, Henry Eddington, left Sunday for Pocatello to enroll at BSU for an eight-week summer school course.

On Tuesday of this week they will see Jerry Allen off by plane for Germany where he will be stationed for two years of his "Torment" mission for the LDS church. He has been in training at Brigham Young University for the past several weeks.

Hailey Plans Farewell Fete

HAILEY, June 9—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams will be honored at a farewell party Wednesday evening at the Hailey LDS ward cultural hall.

Williams has been principal of the high school here the past year. Prior to that time he was principal of the Carey school for several years. He served as superintendent of the Hailey ward LDS Sunday school until recently. Mrs. Williams was president of the primary.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their two sons will move to Twin Falls prior to June 15, where he has accepted a position as salesman for Aubrey Brothers school supplies.

The Williams have sold their home on Fourth avenue to W. S. Brallsford, Hagerman.

Hurricane Kills

ROME, June 9 (AP)—A hurricane lashed 200 miles of Italy's tourist-crowded upper Adriatic coast last night, killing at least two Italians and sweeping fishing boats out to sea. Seven fishermen were feared drowned.

Tough Task, Postoffice Returns Cash

MERCEDES, Calif., June 9 (AP)—The United States postoffice has returned Albert Washington's wallet to him, with the $206 in cash he had in it, but it wasn't simple.

Soon after Washington lost the wallet in January, with the $206 in a secret compartment, it reached the postoffice via a mail box.

They mailed it to his Oakland address with 18 cents postage due, but he had moved and left no forwarding address. So it went back to the postoffice.

After the required 60 days, workers stripped the wallet, according to regulations and found the money. Postal officer Matt Higgins hunted around Washington's old neighborhood until he found someone who knew of his new address, and delivered the wallet and the $206 to him here.

Higgins didn't even ask for the 18 cents postage due.

3 Accidents Are Reported At Shoshone

SHOSHONE, June 9—Three accidents which happened over the week-end were reported at the sheriff's office Monday by State Patrolman William Van Dyke.

A 1963 trailer was overturned as it was struck by a 1961 Pontiac driven by Emil Wolt, Idaho Falls, after Wolt attempted to pass the 1962 Ford driven and owned by Martin V. Whitesell, Richfield. The trailer was being towed by Whitesell. It belonged to James Brown, Jr., Richfield. No one was injured.

At 5 a.m. Sunday five miles west of Shoshone, a 1957 Chevrolet ran off the road into rocks and brush as the driver, Ward H. Chittcock, Gooding, apparently dozed at the wheel.

He received bruises and cuts. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at about $275, the patrolman said.

Bilas H. Kelley, 48, Shoshone, was injured when his 1949 Ford left the road 5.7 miles north of Shoshone on highway 82, struck a mail box, went across the road and landed in the borrow pit.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $500. The accident happened at 8:55 p.m. Saturday. The patrolman's report stated, "Driver was intoxicated."

Soviet Union Charges U. S. With Spying

MOSCOW, June 9 (AP)—The Soviet Union today accused the United States of operating a network of radio and wire posts to spy on Russian military and space installations. The Soviet defense ministry newspaper Red Star charged that the United States had launched several satellites in space which were shrouded in "mystery" without indicating their purpose or orbit.

"It is clear that these satellites are of purely military significance and have been launched for apparent reconnaissance purposes," Red Star said.

The U.S. embassy here termed the charges "ridiculous." Foreign press said the Red Star article appeared to be an attempt at increasing Soviet vigilance and increasing Soviet propaganda.

The charges followed accusations in Red Star Friday that several U.S. military attaches and one British colleague in the Soviet Union had engaged in espionage during the past year.

Yearly Rodeo Is Planned For Mackay

MACKEY, June 9—The 10th annual Mackay rodeo will be held June 20 and 21 at the rodeo grounds with the grand entry at 2 p.m. each day.

The Mackay Lions club is sponsoring the rodeo. The rodeo queen will be crowned at noon. This will be one of the major features of the rodeo.

Harold Pruitt, Elko, Nev., will furnish the stock.

The Mackay rodeo association is putting up $500 prize money plus all the $20 entry fees for each event except the girls barrel race which carries an entry fee requirement of $10.

Another feature, designed to attract top saddle bronc riders, is the $100 ride off during the afternoon which will pit the top five cowboys and the top five saddle broncs with the winner taking all.

Other events on the program are bull riding, bull dogging, barrel racing, a girls barrel race and the most popular of all rodeo events, bull riding, calf roping and team roping round out the program.

Chuck Blacklock and Benny Midwell, will appear. The rodeo queen will be crowned over the two-day rodeo and parade.

The American Legion auxiliary will operate a food and beverage concession on the grounds.

Do Well

KEPOTUAU, June 9—This morning the trees planted on Neal canyon burn on Eagle creek last fall are making a good showing where the snow has gone, according to Richard Stabler, forest ranger.

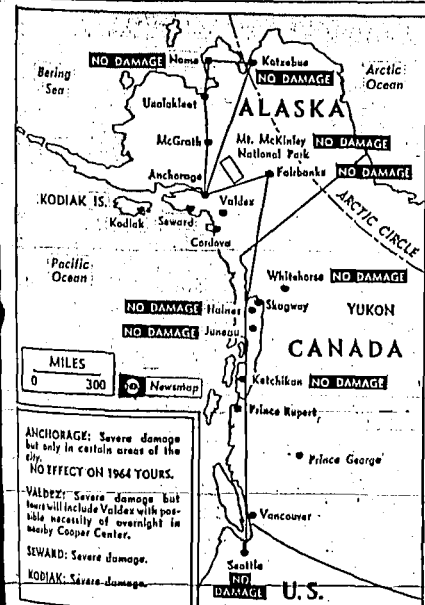

Stabler said the pubescent and intermediate, which he planted last fall on the former sheep trail from Kepotua to Galena also is making a good showing.

Car Sideswiped On Highway 30

Idaho state police investigated a two-car accident at 8:55 a.m. Monday on Highway 30, near Curry on U.S. highway 30.

Chester Hanson, 37, Buick, driving a 1952 Chevrolet was attempting to overtake and pass on the right side of the highway. A 1954 Chevrolet driven by Gerald Taylor, 46, Garibaldi, Ore., officials said, Taylor changed into the right lane and sideswiped the Hanson vehicle.

No injuries were reported and no citations issued.

IF YOU WERE planning a trip to Alaska this year, but were afraid of switching to some other area in light of the earthquake this spring, things are looking up. Severe damage did take place along coastal communities, but only certain areas of the state. Anchorage, for example, received heavy damage. All areas in Anchorage are in operation. Newsmen above spots areas where severe damage took place, as well as many places unaffected by quake damage.

Six Complete For Mackay Queen Title

MACKEY, June 9—Don Palmer, chairman of the Mackay rodeo queen contest, announces six girls will compete for the crown at a horseman's contest at the rodeo grounds at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The queen will be chosen on a basis of horsemanship, appearance and personality. Along with the queen contest will be a girls race meet with $125 prize money plus all the $25 entry fees.

The girls who will compete for the crown are Sandra Halverson, Vicki Leavitt, Joanne Coates, Linda Price, Dawn Palmer, all of Mackay, and Pat Corrigan, Chilo.

The queen contest also will feature the following races each with a purse of $25 plus the entry fees barrel race, half mile event and a goat tying contest. These events are open only to girls.

Following the queen contest and race meet, there will be a free for all horse races, a jackpot event.

The Mackay Lions club will operate a food and beverage concession at the Mackay rodeo grounds.

Justice of Peace Finding June Real Wedding Month

BY MIKE McCREE

June is often referred to as "the wedding month," and for Twin Falls justice of the peace Al Robinson so far this month it has been just that.

Monday Judge Robinson performed his fifth wedding for June.

Most of those who get married in justice court are from California, and about one-third of them involve personnel in the armed forces.

Judge Robinson recalls one couple called him up about 2 a.m. and asked if his wife, who incidentally is a deputy county clerk, would issue them a marriage license and if the judge would marry them right away.

Judge and Mrs. Robinson proceeded to district court and the license was issued and the ceremony performed.

Judge Robinson noted that personnel in the sheriff's department tell people that he can marry them and his wife can issue the license. This is how they found out who to call.

"This Times - News reporter, while on his routine coverage of justice court Monday, was asked to act as a witness for the fifth June marriage ceremony.

The two to be married were Rosalind L. Lozano and Lydia Villarreal, both Twin Falls, and Judge Robinson asked the two, before the ceremony, to correct him if he pronounced the names wrong, which he did and they did.

But the ceremony finally ended and Judge Robinson promptly informed the couple that, according to the ceremony, the groom could kiss the bride.

This reporter, who has been married but a short time, might add that the ceremony looks a lot different when viewed through the eyes of a witness.

Oh, well, everything works out all right, and now that June is only starting Judge Robinson probably can expect more marriage ceremonies to lighten up the day.

Greeks Fear Turks Plan On Takeover

ATHENS, Greece, June 9 (AP)—Greek armed forces have been placed on the alert again and new fears that Turkey is about to stage its long-threatened invasion of Cyprus.

"We are on the eve of an outbreak of war," said a high Greek government source.

The invasion plot of Iskenderun in southern Turkey, home base of the Turkish military force, reported no unusual activity. Reports Monday night said officers of the force were attending a party at the army club.

Both Greek and the Greek Cypriot government of Cyprus ordered an alert over the weekend, but pressure from the United States was said to have averted any Turkish move.

The Greek government source said the new alert was ordered after information was received that "Turkey is preparing to invade the island of Cyprus tonight or early tomorrow."

Greek Foreign Minister Stavros Constantoulis called in U. S. Ambassador Henry Labouisse and British Ambassador Sir Ralph Murray to discuss the situation.

Plane Wreckage Found in Swamp

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C., June 9 (AP)—The wreckage of a Navy plane which crashed and killed its three crewmen was found yesterday in a remote swamp three miles northwest of Pawleys Island.

A spokesman at Myrtle Beach air force base said the B-24F bomber apparently exploded upon impact or shortly before. The bodies of the three crewmen were found in the wreckage.

The navy identified the victims as Ensign William H. Goodby, 27, Ocala, Fla., the pilot; and Lieutenants (j. g.) Edward M. Strahl, 28, Rome, Ga., and William P. Trezzo Jr., 30, Hillton, Pa.

482 Disease Cases Reported

Caldwell Is Named Top WAC Athlete

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 9 (AP)—Jumping Joe Caldwell, a basketball player-scholarship and one of Arizona State University's most successful athletes, today named winner of the second annual Associated Press Western Athletic conference athlete-of-the-year.

Caldwell, a 6-foot 3-inch wonder with a basketball, was easily the winner in basketball by sports writers and sportscasters of Associated Press member newspapers, radio and television stations in the WAC region. He totaled 61 points, while Carr received 35 and Lorkick 13.

Twenty-three athletes were nominated by the schools they attend. Eleven received points in the voting.

Caldwell ended his college career with many honors and records this past season. He finished with 589 points for a 21.8 scoring average per game, both records for the defending champion Sun Devils. He was a second straight WAC title with New Mexico. He also set a three-year school scoring record of 1,511 points.

Then the 165-pound jumping jack played in the East-West game and earned a place on the U.S. Olympic team that will compete in Tokyo this October.

The 31-year-old left-hander has made only two starts this season and hasn't pitched since May 17. He gave up five runs in a total of 3 2/3 innings and lost both starts.

Podres had the arm condition since he was a teen-ager but the bone, while out of place, was unharmed until this year. It has changed position three times since the season opened.

Dr. Robert Kerlan, who will perform the operation, said: "I think we would be extremely fortunate if he was able to perform in major league competition again this season."

Podres may be out the rest of the season.

Inventor of Spitball Dies At Age of 87

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., June 9 (AP)—Elmer Stricklett, former major league pitcher who claimed to have invented the spitball, died Sunday night in a nursing home. He was 87.

Stricklett used his spitball during three seasons with the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1903 through 1907. He said he developed the pitch while with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league in 1902.

Stricklett was born in Glasgow, Kan. He started his career in baseball in 1899 with Kansas City. He played at Toledo before joining Sacramento.

He played with Los Angeles in 1903 and in 1904 played with the Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee.

Stricklett recounted that his spitball pitch started in a game of catch in the rain with George Hildebrand and Frank Corbitt. He said he was able to throw the ball so that it would curve.

Man Charged In Deaths of Ski Stars

CHUR, Switzerland, June 9 (AP)—The state prosecutor's office at Grison filed a charge of homicide by negligence Monday against German skier Willy Bogner, Jr., in the avalanche deaths of Olympic ski stars Wallace (Bud) Werner and Barbi Heinberger last April 12.

Werner, Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Miss Heinberger, Munich, were killed by an avalanche near St. Moritz during the shooting of a documentary film under Bogner's direction.

After a two-month investigation, Grison authorities alleged that Bogner was criminally negligent in allowing Werner and Miss Heinberger to ski alone despite official danger warnings.

Bogner at the time denied any prior knowledge of an avalanche warning. The case against Bogner is expected to come to trial later this year. Swiss officials said the maximum penalty is five years imprisonment but persons convicted of similar offenses in the past usually received suspended sentences.

Bogner was not available for comment. In Munich, Germany Dr. Karl Weber, attorney for Bogner, said there had been no avalanche warning signs put up in the filming area at the time and that Bogner and his camera crew could not be blamed for ignoring safety regulations.

Podres Will Have Surgery On Elbow

LOS ANGELES, June 9 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers announced Monday night that pitcher John Podres will undergo surgery Thursday morning for removal of a loose piece of bone near his left elbow.

Podres may be out the rest of the season.

The 31-year-old left-hander has made only two starts this season and hasn't pitched since May 17. He gave up five runs in a total of 3 2/3 innings and lost both starts.

Podres had the arm condition since he was a teen-ager but the bone, while out of place, was unharmed until this year. It has changed position three times since the season opened.

Dr. Robert Kerlan, who will perform the operation, said: "I think we would be extremely fortunate if he was able to perform in major league competition again this season."

Cousy Says U.S. Cagers "In for Lot of Trouble" In Tokyo Olympic Games

BOSTON, June 9 (AP)—Bob Cousy returned Monday from a basketball lesson American pros administered behind the Iron Curtain and predicted the U.S. Olympic team "is in for a lot of trouble." The retired NBA basketball star and Buddy Lewis, trainer of the world champion Boston Celtics, recounted the highlights of the 21-game sweep of contests in Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Egypt. "The people in these countries can't believe we don't send our best athletes to the Olympics," Cousy said. "They don't understand the vast difference between our pros and amateurs."

Mathews Puzzled By His Batting Slump

MILWAUKEE, June 9 (AP)—Eddie Mathews, a member of nine National League all-star teams in 13 years as third baseman for the Milwaukee Braves, is puzzled by the worst slump of his career. "I've had slumps before, including the bad one during the 1958 World Series, but this has to be the worst," Mathews said in reviewing his average of .103 and just four homers. "This is a nightmarish thing. I've been hitting .300 since May 10, and the Braves are slugging along with a .500 record."

Indians Rally In Eighth to Down Angels

CLEVELAND, June 9 (AP)—Lew Wagner and Bob Chance crashed eighth-inning homers sparking a comeback and giving the Cleveland Indians a 6-5 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Monday night.

The Angels had rallied with three runs in the seventh to take the lead at an angle instead of the Cleveland Indians had broken a scoreless tie with two in the sixth. The Indians came back in the eighth against Angel reliever Bob Lee and Willie Smith.

Koufax Wins 100th Game of His Career

LOS ANGELES, June 9 (AP)—Sandy Koufax, who pitched a no-hitter in his last start, allowed only four hits Monday night and won the 100th game of his major league career as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Cincinnati 2-1. An opposite-field double by John Roseboro brought in the deciding run in the sixth inning. Koufax, who pitched the third no-hitter of his career at Philadelphia last Thursday, didn't allow the Reds a hit until the fifth inning, when Deron Johnson homered.

After retiring the Reds in order through the fourth, Koufax lost control in the fifth, allowing a hit. The string was broken in the fifth when Johnson led off with his fifth homer of the season and his second this year off Koufax. Johnson beat Staley with a three-run homer here April 19.

Johnson also stroked a single in the ninth. Steve Nolas collected the other two Cincinnati hits, a bunt single, also in the fifth, and a line single in the eighth.

Walker Raps Questionnaire Sent by GOP

State Democratic Chairman Lloyd J. Walker Monday rapped a Republican questionnaire sent to him by the GOP.

The release with a blank for the members names as listed by the questionnaire, Walker said, "Another attempt to deceive, frighten and confuse the people of Idaho with their partisan political mischief."

"The release with a blank for the members names as listed by the questionnaire, Walker said, 'Another attempt to deceive, frighten and confuse the people of Idaho with their partisan political mischief.'

"This release is being used as an attack on every one of the 185 Democratic members who voted on giving President Johnson authority to require to act on the wheat issue and on questions of this kind," Walker said. "I assume the Republicans who voted for the amendments were not singled out for criticism."

"It is the same authority requested and received by President Eisenhower during his term of office."

"Several attempts have already been made to criticize Mr. White and his activities in the national capital," Walker continued.

"And in each case it has failed miserably."

"Idahoans know that Compton White is an effective and competent representative of the Democratic Party," Walker concluded.

Wall Street Chatter
NEW YORK, June 9 (UPI)—Spear and Bluff, Inc., says some further weakness is indicated over the near term and thus more conservatism is needed. The firm also recommends upgrading the portfolio which are heavy in cyclical or speculative values.

Robert R. Stovall of E. P. Hutton and company says the immediacy of potential problems will outweigh the excellent fundamentals of the economy for a time. Stovall says "If we are in for a difficult summer, the time might best be spent in upgrading and searching for newly created values."

Clark Dodge and company says that out of a very short term basis it is improbable that last week's decline fully corrected the technical position of the market reached by the end of May. The firm says it is not advisable to hold off both trading and investment buying until a further test of the technical position is made this week.

Colby and company feels the current decline is entirely technical and traders should get more bullish as prices go lower. The firm says the decline is contrary to "the coming biggest economy in world history."

ELIGIBLE FOR AWARD
HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah, June 9 (UPI)—The deputy director for material management at Hill Air Force Base, George H. Van Leuven, has been nominated for the annual Rockefeller Public Service award.

ELBA, June 9 (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chandler, Mrs. George Frank, Mrs. Wells Hapworth, and Mrs. Fred Lloyd spent Saturday in Aberdeen where they attended the funeral of their cousin, Eugene W. Chandler.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE
TUESDAY, June 9 — Born today, you very likely have been afflicted with a touch of genius — but it needs to be carefully cultivated and guided if it is ever to be much more than that. Given the right training, encouraged by the constructive criticism rather than left to express your talents in your own spontaneous way, you could well become a force of considerable influence. Otherwise, an excess of talent, unguided, could lead you into drifting.

It is most likely in business, in an executive capacity, that you would be happiest. At the same time, however, a definite artistic strain in that seems to course through the blood of every Gemini may create difficulties by not combining sympathetically with strictly commercial ventures. If, in the case, you would be wise to separate your interests completely. Business should claim you vocationally, art avocationally — or the reverse.

Because you exact a great deal from yourself, you may be inclined to demand too much of others, and therefore be somewhat difficult to work with. You are, however, extremely successful should a venture turn out successfully, you will not hesitate to share the glory with all concerned, even down to the smallest contributor to the project.

ORVAL NELSON, president of the board of directors of American Falls Reservoir district No. 2, presents a check for $74,000.30 to H. T. Nelson, regional director of the U. S. bureau of reclamation, in ceremonies Monday in Gooding. It is the final payment of the district's $425,955 obligation to the federal government for the costs of American Falls dam and reservoir and the Miller-Gooding canal system.

Final Check Is Presented At Gooding

GOODING, June 9 — In ceremonies Monday at Gooding, Orval Nelson, president of the board of directors of American Falls Reservoir district No. 2, presented a final check for $74,000.30 to regional director H. T. Nelson of the U.S. bureau of reclamation.

"This check marks an important milestone for the district," Nelson said. "It represents the final payment on the district's $425,955 obligation to the federal government for the costs of American Falls dam and reservoir; the Miller-Gooding canal, lateral system, and funded operation and maintenance for some 70,000 acres of the district's old lands and river right lands in the Gooding division of the Milwaukie project."

In accepting the check, Nelson read messages to the American Falls Reservoir district No. 2 from Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Commissioner of Reclamation Floyd M. Dominy.

Dominy's message said: "As commissioner of reclamation, I extend my most sincere congratulations to the board of directors and to all the water users of the American Falls Irrigation district No. 2 on making this final payment on your repayment obligation to the United States on the old and river-right lands."

"This is another excellent demonstration of local people joining together in developing the natural resources of the west and repaying the associated cost in accordance with the reclamation policy of our nation. I extend my best wishes for the continued growth and successful operation of this project."

Udall said: "I am advised that your district is today making the final payment on its obligation to the United States on the old and river-right lands. I wish to express my personal congratulations, as well as those of the department of the interior, on this memorable occasion."

"You have my best wishes for the continued successful operation of the project and for the continued growth, good will and success of your district."

Montana Man Calls Help Via Friend
GREAT FALLS, June 9 (UPI)—Communications always are difficult in a major disaster such as a flood, but sometimes there are ways to bypass the bottlenecks.

Take Carl Blomberg of Choteau, the city of 2,000 that was flooded when Eureka dam on the Teton river went out. When the water started rising, Blomberg couldn't reach the sheriff's office in Choteau by telephone. He kept getting a busy signal.

So he called a friend in Great Falls, saying he was trapped in his home, sitting on a bed and the water was up to the top of the bed. The friend in Great Falls called radio — television station KFBZ, which put in a call to the Cascade county sheriff's office in Great Falls.

The Great Falls office had radio contact with the sheriff at Choteau and relayed the message of Blomberg's plight. The Choteau sheriff sent a boat to Blomberg's house and evacuated him safely.

WANT 4 YEAR SCHOOL
BOISE, June 9 (UPI)—Greater Boise Chamber of Commerce directors voted overwhelmingly yesterday to support the principle of a four-year college for Boise.

Everybody
NEW YORK, June 9 (UPI)—Everybody, not just overweight persons and those who've had heart disease, should eat less fatty food, the American Heart association says.

The organization widened today its recommendation of three years ago because, it said, of mounting evidence of a relation between fat consumed, cholesterol in the blood and heart disease.

Khrushchev, Tito Call for Unity In Communism
MOSCOW, June 9 (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Yugoslav President Tito concluded talks in Leningrad today with a call for unity in world communist ranks split by the Sino-Soviet quarrel.

Tito left for Belgrade less than 24 hours after he flew to Leningrad from a state visit to Poland. Khrushchev headed back to Moscow by train.

Khrushchev said in an airport statement that "full identity of views" had been achieved on a "whole range of questions of relations between peoples through the world."

Brazil Bars Presidential Candidate
RIO DE JANEIRO, June 9 (UPI)—Brazil's revolutionary government yesterday unseated the presidential election hopes of moderate ex-President Juscelino Kubitschek by barring him from politics for 10 years for alleged security reasons.

President Humberto Castello Branco announced the step taken "at the suggestion of the national security council."

Kubitschek was the front-running candidate in elections for October 1965. He was president from 1956 to 1961 and is regarded throughout Latin America as the harbinger of the Alliance for Progress with his project development scheme, "Operation Pan America," which never got off the ground.

Kubitschek is leader of the Radical Democratic party, a middle road party.
